AWFUL CARNAGE. AND AS YET WITHOUT VICTORY TO EITHER ARMY.

Terrible Nature of the Fighting Now Raging
Near Mukden--Appalling Loss of Life--
St. Petersburg More Sanguine of Result
--Japanese Report of Operations.

St. Petersburg has been cheered by the report that Kuropatkin has resumed the offensive and by news of the defeat of the Japanese command of Yamada and capture of Lone Tree hill, which is reported to be the key to the position on the southwest front of the contending armies. If the report of advance is authentic and the Russians have crossed to the south side of the Shakhe river a later rise in the stream may have produced conditions seriously threatening the failure of Kuropatkin's plans, for, it is believed, the advance force may be cut off from reserves and the base of supplies and retreat rendered impractical. It is, however, questionable if the advance movement had proceeded to the point indicated. There seems to be no immediate prospect of cessation of the fighting that has been in progress for the last ten days, although there are signs that on both sides the supply of ammunition is falling short and that to limit of endurance of the troops must have been nearly reached.

RUSSIANS MORE JUBILANT.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 18.—There is jubilation throughout the city over the news that Kuropatkin has assumed the offensive, and the holiday in honor of the czar's name day, which began with little heart, closed brighter. News boys up to midnight raced through the thoroughfares with extras, shouting "Great Russian victory," and crowds bought the papers and discussed the change in the fortunes of war; but the population as a whole were slow to take the fire. The kaleidoscopic changes on the Shakhe have been too swift for the populace to follow, and so the better news from the front has been so far taken with comparative quiet. In best informed circles, however, it is already accepted as true. It is believed that Kuropatkin intended to signalize the holiday by a victory, just as grand duke Nicholas did at Plevna. The Associated Press hears on good authority that the emperor has received a telegram from Kuropatkin reporting that the Russians are moving forward. The reverse sustained by Yamada's column has not yet been reported by Kuropatkin or Sakharoff, except in reference to an unsuccessful Japanese attack near Shakhe. The Associated Press Mukden dispatch evidently refers to this affair in reporting that the Japanese left was beaten off with terrible slaughter and its retreat cut off by a Russian army corps.

Another dispatch from Mukden confirms the news of the Russian advance. There is no official confirmation here of the report from Tokyo that the Russian attack on the Japanese right Oct. 17 had been repulsed. If this report should prove true it may involve serious consequences for the Russians who crossed the Shakhe while the river was fordable. According to Associated Press Mukden dispatches the water has risen very high in consequence of rains and therefore it will be well nigh impossible for the Russian army to recross the river owing to the absence of bridges. It would be equally difficult for the same reason to bring supplies and ammunition to enable Kuropatkin to follow up the advance. This may explain the statement in a Mukden dispatch to the Associated Press that fighting was slackened on the morning of Oct. 18.

REPULSED BY RUSSIANS.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 18.—Sakharoff telegraphs to day the Russians repulsed a Japanese attack on their right wing during the night of the 17th, seized the village of Shalantay on the Snake river. The enemy strongly bombarded the captured hill, but did not advance to attack on Lone Tree hill. The work of burying the dead proceeded all night long. Military honors were paid Japanese dead.

AROUSING RESENTMENT.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 18.—Announcement from Washington saying the administration believed the time for mediation in the war was approaching has aroused only resentment and there is no doubt if Roosevelt should actually attempt to open the question at this time he would meet with rebuff.

WAR REPORTS.

Tokio, Oct. 18.—The Russians fiercely assaulted Oku and attacked Nodzu Monday night, but were everywhere repulsed with heavy losses.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 18.—A Mukden dispatch says Chinese villagers are actively aiding Japanese. General Sakharoff was fired upon from a hut and five of his escort wounded.

Fukke Bjerg, Denmark, Oct. 18.—Three Russian battleships, two torpedo boats and one transport belonging to the Baltic fleet sailed northward this afternoon.

LATER DISPATCHES.

Headquarters of Oku's left army, in the field, Oct. 14. (Delayed in transmission) via, Fuson, Oct. 18.—The battle began Oct. 9 with an attack on the hills north of Yental, from which the Russians were driven. Monday the Japanese shelled the Russian position in the villages north of Yental. A terrible artillery duel continued all day and night without decisive results. Tuesday the Japanese repulsed the fierce Russian attacks. The fighting continued all day. The Russians lost heavily, the attackers being almost annihilated. During the night the Russians withdrew 200 yards and the Japanese took up an advanced position at the same time. Early Wednesday the Russians made full retreat and the Japanese continued their advance. In the afternoon the Japanese captured a battery of eighty Russian guns. The whole force of artillery was turned on the retreating Russians, causing much havoc. "The left wing circled the Russian's extreme right, forcing the Russian flank back on the center and capturing twelve guns. The Japanese center captured four guns and the left column took 1,000 rounds of ammunition. Thursday morning the whole left army advanced, driving the Russians back. Meantime Kuroki cut off the Russians to the east. He and Nodzu drove the Russians back, capturing guns, ammunition and men. Thursday an advance was made on the hill occupied by the Russians and Friday morning the Russians retired in the direction of Mukden. The only position now held by the Russians is the center, where a fierce fight is being waged. The Russians appear to be cut off.

REPORT FROM OYAMA.

Tokio, Oct. 18.—A telegram from Field Marshal Oyama received to day says: "On the night of Oct. 17 the enemy made two fierce counter attacks against the right column of the left army, besides a counter attack on a small detachment in the direction of the center and right column. We repulsed them entirely. The enemy retired, leaving a great number of dead."

MONDAY'S FIGHTING.

Mukden, Oct. 18.—The fighting of Oct. 17 was confined to the Russian center at the Nakdo river and mostly artillery fire, the Japanese using big guns and high explosive shells. During the day's continuance fighting the losses were more than 2,000. The hospitals are hardly able to handle the wounded. Nevertheless they have performed wonders. The Chinese have deserted all the villages and towns are using the woodwork of their houses for fuel. The country south is desolated. The Japanese still seem to be striving to force the Russians out of Mukden. A battle is assured in positions surrounding the town. It becomes more and more evident that the resources of the country cannot support a large army. This session's crops are spoiled. Kuropatkin remains with the troops, having abandoned his headquarters at Mukden.

As this dispatch is filed, Tuesday evening, the Russians are retreating ground gained at the Shakhe river. Maxims have been captured. Firing ceased after dark to day.

WITH OKU'S ARMY.

Headquarters of Oku's left army, Oct. 18, 3 p. m. via, Fuson, Oct. 18.—Since Sunday last the Japanese left army buried 4,000 Russian dead. It is estimated that the Russian casualties are 25,000. The Japanese report their casualties about 20,000. Early this morning the Japanese continued to advance, driving the Russians before them and capturing two guns and many rifles. At 7:30 this morning the Russians attempted to recapture Lamut, but were repulsed with heavy loss.

ENVIRONMENT OF COLUMB.

London, Oct. 18.—A dispatch to the Japanese legation from Tokyo, dated to day, giving details of the envelopment of Yamada's column, says:

"Oct. 16 his column was proceeding to reinforce a detachment of our left army which was attacking the enemy north of Shikie. It defeated the enemy near Weichialoutz, captured two guns and two ammunition wagons and was returning to its original position, when suddenly at 7 p. m. it was enveloped by about a division of the enemy. It succeeded in breaking through and gaining its original position. The artillery, however, was lost with most of the men and horses. We were compelled to abandon nine field guns and five mountain guns. Our casualties Oct. 16 were 1,000."

THE EPISCOPALIANS

Boston, Oct. 18.—The house of deputies of the Episcopal conference to day voted to accept the definitions of the words "within the boundaries of the United States," meaning all territories and possessions within the jurisdiction of the United States.

Resolutions recommending the appointment of a committee to petition state legislatures to consider adoption of statutory grounds on which divorce be granted was referred to the commission on uniformity of marriage and divorce.

This removes the resolution from further action by the present convention. The divorce issue again came before the convention to day, but no final action was taken on the several resolutions referring to the subject which were presented. The house of bishops sent a message to the delegates informing them that the bishops had voted to forbid the remarriage of divorced persons. When the matter was laid before the deputies on the question of concurrence it was referred to the committee on canons, from which it can be called at any time.

During the forenoon several resolutions favoring a stricter canon on marriage and divorce were referred to committees. The divorce matter again came up through a resolution of George Foster Peabody of Brooklyn, calling for the appointment of twelve members for both houses to consider the entire question and report to the next general convention. The committee is to confer with other religious bodies as to some uniform standard of legislation bearing on marriage and divorce. It was referred to the committee on canons.

The joint committee appointed three years ago presented an extended report recommending that the various districts be grouped into seven provinces, each province to have authority to legislate on matters which do not conflict with the general convention. Each province is to elect a primate to preside over it. The report will be acted upon later.

The deputies to day decided to refer a proposition to elect a negro bishop for the southern states to the next convention.

CASE POSTPONED.

Cockens, of the LaFollette state central committee, to require certification of Kempf's name as candidate for state treasurer, was postponed indefinitely to day by Judge Williams in the circuit court.

WANTS TO ATTEND FUNERAL.
Berlin, Oct. 18.—The News Agency says the former crown princess of Saxony has telegraphed the new king Frederick of Saxony, from whom she was divorced after her flight with the French tutor, Girou, asking permission to attend the funeral of King George, and see her children. The king, it is added, refused the request.

ATTACKED BY PIRATES.

Shanghai, Oct. 18.—The British steamers Pak Kong and Hoiho were attacked by pirates in the West river near Canton last night. A British gunboat has been dispatched to the scene.

DELAYED REPORT.

Mukden, Oct. 17. (Delayed in transmission). The continual vigilance of the command and especially the serious acceptance by the Japanese army of the Russian advance, promises further fighting, although there has already been nine days of unprecedented and exhaustive conflict. The Japanese have been alternately testing the Russian quarter center and right flank, holding the Russians in a monotonous and bitter day of day resistance on the line of contact. The Japanese apparently feared that the Russian advance would develop a superior force of reserves. The duration of the contest already exceeds by several days the common prophesies, as it was believed that neither side was capable of such expenditure of men and munitions, which already is in excess of all previous fighting within twenty-five miles of Liao Yang.

Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 18.—C. K. G. Billings' Lou Dillon, the champion trotting mare, went down to defeat to day before Major Delmar, owned by E. E. Smathers in the third and last contest for the Memphis gold cup, the feature race of the opening day of the fourth annual meeting of the Memphis Trotting association. After sustaining a terrific pace to the three quarters pole in the first heat, it was apparent that the mare was in bad condition and she was pulled up. Major Delmar winning in a jog. Despite a critical examination by veterinary surgeons, who pronounced the mare affected by the ailment known to horsemen as "thumps," Lou Dillon was again brought out on the track by Mr. Billings and against the advice of veterinarians, he announced that, as a matter of form he would start the mare in the second heat. Delmar rounded the curve in easy time, Lou following at a slow trot. Smathers, representing the New York Driving club, becomes the permanent owner of the cup. The great crowd present was visibly affected by the misfortune of the mare.

The 2:10 pace furnished the most spirited contest of the day, is finally being won by John M., who was pulled up.

If the manager of Harpers' Weekly is inclined to profanity the air must have been blue in his office when he looked over the issue of Oct. 1. On the first page was an article highly complimentary to the Empire state on the fact that Elihu Root had been nominated by the Republicans for governor and desecrating at considerable length on the excellent qualifications possessed by that gentleman for the high position. Farther along was a full page portrait of Frank W. Higgins, the real nominee of the party, and on another page a lengthy article by a life long friend giving a careful analysis of Mr. Higgins' character and reciting many facts in the history of the gentleman. And this too, not in the columns of a daily paper, which must be prepared more or less hurriedly, but in the contents of a staid and sober weekly with all that pertains to such an establishment. Had such a break been made in a small paper there would have been no end to the criticisms and sarcastic remarks.

THE COUNTY CANDIDATES.

The Republican party in this county has taken no chances this year in selecting its candidates for the home offices, but has placed in nomination men who can be relied on to do the best for the people.

For state's attorney Bert Van Winkle will serve the taxpayers all right and there will be no mistake in giving him the majority of the ballots.

Charles L. Hayden has run the office of circuit clerk in a faultless manner and is the man for the place again. Industry, economy, integrity, courtesy, ability, all have been his characteristics.

Dr. Spencer will please the people as coroner if chosen. He is a capable physician, a gentleman who has had experience in the office and is fitted admirably for the position.

For superintendent of schools J. H. DeLong is a good selection. His ability as a teacher is well known and his administrative capacity will make him the man for the difficult position of county superintendent.

George Detrick is just the kind of man wanted for county commissioner. He has the qualifications which make him especially desirable for the place in one which needs the business capacity, experience, integrity and other characteristics possessed by him.

For surveyor Mansell Dudley is all right. He is a man who has striven hard to learn the duties of the position and is capable and obliging and should have a majority of the suffrages of the people.

TRAGEDY AT MANILA.

Manila, Oct. 17. Second Lieut. William N. Pritchard in a fit of insanity shot and killed Second Lieut. Fred L. Neen and shot and killed himself. Both were attached to the Thirtieth regiment of United States cavalry.

It may be asserted without fear of successful contradiction that nowhere else in recent years has there been as fine an example of constructive statesmanship and wise and upright administration as has been given by the civil authorities, aided by the army, in the Philippine Islands.
—Roosevelt's Letter of Acceptance.

PENSION ORDER NO. 78

President Roosevelt's Action Is in Line with Law and Precedent.

The groundless character of the charge that President Roosevelt has exceeded his constitutional powers is shown clearly by examination of the facts and the laws concerned in the executive action known as the "age pension order" issued last March by direction of the president.

Anyone who will take the trouble to read the act of June 27, 1890, as amended May 9, 1900, will find a clear basis to begin with. It directs who shall have pensions, and how the amount of the pension, in each case, shall be determined, as follows:

"All persons who served 90 days or more in the military or naval service of the United States during the late war of the rebellion and who have been honorably discharged therefrom, and who are now or who may hereafter be suffering from a mental or physical disability of a permanent character, not the result of their own vicious habits, which incapacitates them from the performance of manual labor in such a degree as to render them unable to earn a support, shall, upon making due proof of the fact according to such rules and regulations as the secretary of the interior may provide, be placed upon the list of invalid pensioners of the United States and be entitled to receive a pension not exceeding $12 per month, and not less than $5 per month, proportioned to the degree of disability to earn a support, and in determining such inability each and every aggregate of the disabilities shown shall be rated."

Thus, as plain as words can make it, is authority given to the secretary of the interior to determine what pension shall be paid to any applicant for pension who served ninety days in the war of rebellion, was honorably discharged, and who is disabled for the performance of manual labor by any cause other than the results of his own vicious habits.

The supreme court has decided that upon the point of establishing the rate of pension to be paid, within the limits prescribed by the law the secretary of the interior has entire control. The only check or supervision upon him is from the president of the United States, whom the general laws specifically direct shall have control of the commissioner of pensions and the administration of the pension system.

Therefore, it was directly in line with the duties imposed upon him according to section 471, U. S. Revised Statutes, that President Roosevelt gave the celebrated order which has been called an evidence of "usurpation," "imperialism," a "looting of the treasury," and other hard names, by excitable Democrats. The section of the Revised Statutes referred to reads as follows:

"The commissioner of pensions shall perform, under the direction of the secretary of the interior, such duties in the execution of the various pension and bounty laws as may be prescribed by the president."

President Roosevelt, in his pension order, did no more than his plain duty, acting strictly within the powers conferred upon him by the congress of the United States.

Our appeal is made to all good citizens who hold the honor and the interest of the nation close to their hearts—Roosevelt's Letter of Acceptance.

Not the Only Important Question.

Admitting that the gold standard is "irrevocably fixed," as Judge Parker says, though he did not help fix it, that is the only one of many important financial questions that may come up in relation to financial matters. The question of the preservation and extension of our system of banking and currency; the refunding of our national debt as it may, from time to time, become due, and many other questions of like importance may arise. To place the settlement of these questions in unfriendly hands might result in such a disturbance of business as would shock the whole country.

Best of All Markets.

The best of all markets for American manufacturers and farmers is the home market. The internal commerce of the United States aggregates each year more than $23,000,000,000 and is far greater than the international commerce of all the world. This vast market is at our doors. It is among our own people. Why should we surrender it to foreigners, as the Democratic policy of free trade would do, and pay to foreign manufacturers and workmen the money that should go to Americans?

Democratic Trifling.

The Democratic party professes a most sacred reverence for the constitution, yet by nominating an organarian for vice president it has shown utter disregard for the provision of the constitution which, in case of the death or inability of the president, devolves his duties upon the vice president. No party has a right to trifle with great public interests in that manner.

AT DANVILLE

Federation of Woman's Clubs—Mrs. E. O. Lambert Urged to Become Candidate for President.

Danville, Oct. 18.—After a day of preliminary skirmishing and a night of more or less active canvassing, the tenth annual convention of the Illinois Federation of Woman's clubs was formally opened to day with an address of welcome by the president, Mrs. Eugene Bacon, of Decatur, followed by reports of officers and nominations for vice presidents in the even numbered congressional districts.

The attendance is large, 500 delegates being present, and there is sufficient uncertainty about the outcome of the election of officers and various questions which are expected to arise to add zest to the occasion. Day sessions are held in the First Presbyterian church and the opera house is being used at night.

The one absorbing question of who is to be the next president of the federation is apparently no nearer settlement than it was before the delegates arrived. For president, Mrs. E. C. Lambert, of Jacksonville, is repeatedly named in spite of her decided refusal to become a candidate. She is undoubtedly the popular choice. She is vice president at-large. Mrs. Sarah Platt Decker, president of the National Federation of Woman's clubs, addressed the convention this morning. She complimented Illinois on giving her such a capable secretary as Mrs. John D. Sherman, of Chicago.

Mrs. William E. Fithian welcomed the delegates to Danville, and a gavel made from a cherry tree under which Lincoln and Douglas had one of their famous debates, was presented to President Bacon.

The delegates were surprised to find in the report of the corresponding secretary, Mrs. Grace S. Bills, in the past two years 1,500 women have dropped from club membership. The loss is attributed to the increase in dues. There are at present 23,443 women in the clubs represented in the state federation.

Whether or not there really is vegetation on the moon's surface is a matter of some debate. Professor Pickering believes that there is, basing his belief upon observations of what he has called "variable spots"—portions of which exhibit a rapid darkening, beginning shortly after sunrise, followed by an equally rapid fading toward sunset, accompanied by a diminution in size as they darken. From the peculiar character of the variation observed Professor Pickering concludes that organic life resembling vegetation is the only simple explanation of the changes which he has observed. Considering the long lunar day as a miniature terrestrial year the theory of such life becomes colorable. The vegetation, if there be any, shoots up, flourishes and dies in a lunar day just as it grows and withers on the earth in a terrestrial year.

ADDRESSED STUDENTS

Dr. Bradley, Former President of Illinois College spoke at Chapel Service Tuesday.

Dr. John F. Bradley, former president of Illinois college, addressed the students of that institution Tuesday morning at the chapel services. He was given a warm reception by the students and by many of the old graduates and friends of the college, who were present.

After the usual services, Dean F. S. Hayden, in a fitting speech, telling of Dr. Bradley's work for the college, introduced Mr. Bradley, who spoke in part as follows:

"I thank you for your cordial greeting, and I am happy to have the privilege of looking into the faces of these college students. I take this opportunity to express my sympathy with and love for the college. I am glad to see many signs of progress. It is a pleasure to see the young ladies enjoying the great privileges of old Illinois."

"I recently attended a gathering of distinguished men at Des Moines, Iowa, and had the opportunity of studying the faces of those men who had accomplished something. Soon after I also heard President Cyrus Northrup, of the University of Minnesota, address an audience of students at Grinnell. The expression on the faces of those students as they grasped the truths of his address was vastly more interesting than the audience of distinguished men. So I say, there is nothing grander to witness than the manner in which student men and women take their place in the world."

"Students here may think they see broader opportunities in the great universities with their fine laboratories and libraries. In these universities I have seen only moderate interest, but I have seen the sturdy country youth come to this college with boundless enthusiasm; have seen him grow in habits, studies and power for work, and finally take an honorable position in the work of the world."

"During the past few years Mrs. Bradley and myself have lived near Harvard university, where we have had a chance to meet many Illinois college boys who are attending that school. All of them have reflected credit upon their college. Last year the highest honor was won by an Illinois college boy. The students here should rejoice in their opportunity for plain, earnest work, and I congratulate you upon your opportunities."

At the conclusion of the chapel exercises, Dr. Bradley met his former pupils and friends in an informal way in the dean's office. His visit to the college and his strong address will be remembered and cherished as a great pleasure by all who heard him.

RAILROAD NEWS NOTES

Alton Carries Large Number to World's Fair—Burlington Engine Derailed.

D. T. Campbell, claim attorney for the C. & A., was a business visitor in Jacksonville Tuesday.

The St. Louis fair is taking large crowds from Jacksonville every day. The C. & A. sold about 200 tickets to that point Tuesday.

The condition of James Dickens, who was injured at the lead shops a few days ago, is reported to be no better.

Burlington engine No. 1134 attached to an extra freight went through the derail near the Wabash crossing Tuesday afternoon. The train was coming from the south, and had received the go ahead signal from the East College avenue crossing and having a heavy train they had to put on a little extra speed to go over the grade. The signal at the Wabash crossing was against them, as there was a C. & A. train on the cut-off, and the switchman threw the derail so as to avoid a collision between the two trains.

E. T. Cunningham, of the Burlington freight office, is spending a few days in St. Louis this week.

The C. & B. & Q. section hands were graveling the tracks between the depot and the East College avenue crossing Tuesday.

R. A. Cook, assistant engineer of the Alton, came down from Bloomington Tuesday for a visit with Jacksonville friends.

To relieve the crowding of the red limited train and to enable the regular train to make the fast time of seven hours, under the new schedule, the Alton officials will commence on next Thursday moving the train in two sections. The officials have secured twelve additional cars from the Pullman company all painted red to match the regular train and will run a second section out of Chicago and St. Louis each day, composed of six cars, and which follow the first section on the fifteen minute block. The second section will be composed of Pullmans with exception of a combination baggage and smoking car as a buffer next to the engine. There is such a demand for Pullman service that these cars will be run instead of ordinary chair cars. It is planned, however, to leave the Pullman parlor chair cars on the first section as at present, and the first section will continue to carry eight cars as in the past. It is probable that the movement of the red train in two sections will relieve the strain on Nos. 1 and 2 and these, which are also daylight through trains, will not always be run in two sections daily, as has been necessary of late. The crews for the extra section of the red trains, will be selected from the chain gangs, through seniority.

DON'TS FOR FRESHMEN.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 18.—Hereafter the freshmen of the University of Wisconsin must be more meek and deferential while in the presence of the upper classmen. The seniors believe that Wisconsin needs a code of traditions respecting the conduct of freshmen. The youngsters, the upper classmen say, are too conceited, too arrogant and too independent for their own welfare and that of the university. It would be better for them if there were a code of traditions regulating their conduct. To that end the seniors have just adopted a set of resolutions expressing their views on the subject and enumerating things from which the freshmen will be expected to refrain. The new rules are to govern the conduct of all freshmen at the university, excepting such as shall have made the foot ball or other athletic teams, or won a "W," and are as follows:

1. No freshman shall smoke a pipe or be seen to carry a pipe when on the street or outdoors within the city of Madison.

2. No freshman shall carry a cane or walking stick at any time unless such cane or stick is necessary because of injuries making it impossible for him to walk without the aid of such cane or stick.

3. No freshman shall wear any derby or stiff hat whatever during the year until May 1, save only upon "prom" (junior promenade) night.

4. No freshman or sophomore shall under any circumstances whatever sit upon the fence in front of the gym. This rule applies to all freshmen and sophomores without exception.

It is said that the action of the seniors is approved by President Van Hise and the faculty.

OUR NEIGHBORS

George Ansel spent Sunday in Arcadia, Ill., visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Henderson.

Benjamin Hickman has built a new walk in front of his home and is making many other little improvements.

Mr. Meyers, a brother-in-law of Mr. Hickman, spent Sunday here.

George Moss, who has been living in Arcadia for some time, moved on a farm near Ashland last week and expects to work there for a year at least.

This village has recently passed an ordinance prohibiting drivers of automobiles to run their machines faster than eight miles an hour through our main street. This is done to protect chickens, etc.

We have no good bear stories this week, but are thinking of giving the readers a true "Wally" story at no distant date. Watch the Arcadia items.

Some smart young fellows, evidently looking for trouble, were marching around the park in town Saturday night and one of them, without the least provocation, struck Edward Barr a blow, knocking him down and cutting his eye severely. The well for that crowd that Arcadians were not present, for we believe in the old adage, "An eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth."

Mrs. J. M. Wolfe visited her mother, Mrs. Hattie Ogle, in Jacksonville several days last week.

Many Arcadians put in several days at the street fair and pronounced it a success in many ways. The "Eagles" court was certainly a fake, and there was a heavy crowd that they were high flyers and "birds of prey" as well. Some of the songs sung at the various shows were excellent. A great many were well pleased with the old songs, such as "The Gray," but seems that many of our home people, the men especially, thought that "Mary Wood" was the greatest hit of all.

The brick work of the new bank is being laid under the direction of Mr. Henry, of Jacksonville, who has supervising men at work, and the building will soon be completed.

The Ladies Aid will soon let the contract for a vestibule to be built in front of the Methodist church doors. They expect to have it completed before cold weather.

Thomas Ellis, of Los Angeles, Cal., was visiting W. O. Beardsley and family last week.

Died, at the home of her son, Thomas Conlee, six miles south of here, Oct. 13, Mrs. Sarah Conlee, aged 85 years. The relatives and a few friends were present. The house was beautifully decorated with white and pink carnations.

The bride wore white silk trimmed in blue and carried white carnations. An elegant supper was served in the dining room immediately after the ceremony.

Music, both vocal and instrumental, added to the pleasures of the occasion.

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Morris Seymore, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Alexander of Woodson, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Smith of Jacksonville, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Sooy of Disgah, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McCallan of Nortonville, Mrs. Johnson and family, A. M. Myers and family. An informal dinner was given at the home of the groom's mother, Mrs. Edmund Johnson.

The house was decorated for the occasion by a profusion of white and pink carnations and music, vocal and instrumental, and a number of selections on the graphophone were rendered and a splendid dinner was enjoyed by all. The happy couple are very highly esteemed by a large circle of friends, who made them the recipients of many useful and valuable presents in token of their regard.

They began housekeeping on a farm with the best wishes of a host of friends.

IT BUILDS YOU UP, and KEEPS YOU UP

The Best Cod Liver Preparation

Prompt, Easy Recovery.

The greatest thing in the world is a Mother's Love. The love she lavishes on her children; the love her child should have for her; without this love she could not endure the agonies incident to childbirth; appreciative of this love, Mother's Friend was devised to lessen the pain and anguish of childbirth, that her love might not be strained to the breaking point. Mother's Friend does all this and more—it enables the fond mother to speedily recuperate from the labors of maternity, enables her to regain her lost strength, preserves her youthful lines, beauty, and makes pregnancy her crowning joy without any thorns to mar it.

Mother's Friend

Is applied externally, is most harmless in its consistency, keeps happy in its results, and of such merit that no case of labor should be conducted without its use. It is a liniment for massage of the abdominal muscles during pregnancy, and by its use their tonicity and power of contraction is greatly enhanced, enabling them to sustain the great strain brought to bear on them at this time. It is Mother's Friend. The name should be enough to recommend it to all who expect to be mothers. Send for free book containing information of price and value to expectant mothers.

"BUSTER BROWN"

The play is built around the merest thread of a plot, but there is fun and mirth from the time the curtain rises until it falls. The work of the chorus was excellent and the individual voices also possessed strength and pleasing quality.

Master Giovanni, in the part of "Buster Brown," was a great success and the child showed an adaptability to stage life that was indeed most remarkable. Jack Bell, in the part of "Tige," was also fully equal to the demands of the occasion and his work was very clever.

The graceful dancing of Miss Rosa Orouch was one of the features of the program and her work was certainly beyond criticism. The audience was loud in its approval and she received generous applause.

The cast as a whole was evenly balanced and the performance gave eminent satisfaction and delighted the large audience present. The piece was adequately staged and was not lacking in sartorial splendor.

Women and Buttons.

Attention was drawn by Dr. James Shaw at the Ambidextral Culture society to the singular fact that the buttons of feminine clothes are on the wrong side, or, rather, since ladies may maintain that it is men's buttons which are wrong, that men's buttons are on the right side of the wearer and women's on the left.

This peculiarity Dr. Shaw ascribed not to feminine perversity, but to the fact that those who set ladies' fashions were supposed to have made to dress them, for whom this position was more convenient.

MAN MARRIES

Mr. A. E. Neal and Mrs. Edith Campbell Wed at St. Charles.

St. Charles, Mo., Oct. 18.—Mr. Austin E. Neal, of St. Louis, and Mrs. Edith B. Campbell, of Jacksonville, Ill., were married here today at 2:00 o'clock in the afternoon by the Rev. Robert W. Ely, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. The wedding was planned as a surprise to the friends of the bride and bridegroom, who did not expect it to take place before Thanksgiving.

Mrs. Campbell went to St. Louis from her home in Jacksonville Sunday evening, accompanied by a single friend, Miss Clara Martin. Monday morning they met Mr. Neal, and the final arrangements for an immediate wedding were perfected.

Mr. Neal is a well known newspaper man of St. Louis, having been for several years connected with the Republic. The bride is one of the most popular women of Jacksonville. Mr. and Mrs. Neal will go to New Orleans on their wedding tour, and after their return to the city will be at home on West Belle place.

The Grand Turk and His Money.

The grand Turk keeps his money to sit on and is such poor pay, even to the bodyguard within his palace, that they revolted the other day, and other troops had to be called in to subdue them. When a baker's dozen or so had been killed, including the sultan's aid-de-camp and the commander of the palace fire brigade, it was considered good domestic economy to pay off the malcontents and establish a new force in their place. The Berliner Tageblatt says that the incident greatly discomposed the sultan, and he would have worn a simpleton's turban if it hadn't.

LOCAL DEMOCRATIC CAMPAIGN OPENED

State Issues Discussed at Court House Tuesday Evening—Speakers Are Long on Promises—Judge Thompson Presided.

Lawrence B. Stringer, of Lincoln, Democratic candidate for governor, addressed a large audience at the court house Tuesday evening, coming here from Waverly, where he spoke in the afternoon. The candidate arrived on the Burlington train at 7:35 p. m., and was met at the depot by a reception committee composed of R. C. Reynolds, president of the Democratic club; Dan Buhann, Haller Higgins, Felix Farrell, A. G. Burr and John Clary. Carriages were in waiting, and headed by Jeffries' Concert band the visitor was escorted to the court house.

Previous to the arrival of Mr. Stringer, the candidate for Lieutenant governor, Thomas Ferns, of Jerseyville, was escorted from the Pacific hotel to the court house and was engaged in addressing the audience when Mr. Stringer entered.

Judge Owen P. Thompson presided at the meeting.

Candidate Ferns confined his remarks almost exclusively to the trusts and made a poor thing out of it. He took John W. Gates, Rockefeller, Morgan and other millionaires, who are at present the backbone of the Parker campaign to task and arraigned them for being millionaires, but not for one moment did he mention the name of W. H. Hearst, whose ardent supporter and assistant manager he was, and who solely through the influence of his $40,000,000 and more tried to purchase the Democratic presidential nomination.

The speaker charged the Republican party with every evil but the original sin, called Roosevelt a bully, attributed the war with Spain to Wall street and Republican spoilsmen and betrayed such a painful ignorance of the issues of the day that the audience were more than glad to welcome Mr. Stringer. He spoke of a new broom sweeping clean, but failed to mention the sweep of the new broom under the Grover Cleveland administration, when prosperity was swept into the middle of next week and when the free soup house did a large and flourishing business until the Republican party was placed again at the helm.

The speaker again and again misquoted the printed utterances of President Roosevelt and never once in his lengthy speech did he refer to a single piece of Democratic legislation that had been of benefit to the people of the state or nation.

The speaker seemed to find great encouragement in the fact that the trusts and mighty corporations had been opposed to Bryan in 1896 and 1900, but that they were with Parker, who was a constitutionalist, whatever that term means.

The speaker told a good dog story, which had about as much point to it as the blunt end of a policeman's billy, and was as much of an argument as the rehearsal of the extravagance of the Bradley-Martin ball would have been during the Cleveland administration.

Judge Thompson introduced Mr. Stringer with a glowing tribute and the gentleman was received with hearty applause.

The candidate began his remarks with an appeal to all voters, irrespective of party affiliations, to support the Chicago charter amendment, which, he argued, would be only giving simple justice to the people of the great city, who were in urgent need of just such a measure.

He then launched into a denunciation of the Republican party for their management of the state institutions, but was very discreet in avoiding a discussion of conditions in the state institutions during the Democratic administration between 1892 and 1896.

He made the usual promises as to what he would do if elected and then devoted his attention to Mr. Deneen. He accused the Republican candidate of refusing to answer the questions he had put to him and brought into question the manner in which he was nominated. People who live in glass houses should learn not to throw stones. Mr. Deneen and the people of the great state of Illinois know how he was nominated, but if Mr. Stringer knows how he was nominated, or by whom, he knows more than the other thousand and odd delegates who were present at Springfield, when Bedlam was put to shame, and when the greatest demonstration of gavel rule was enacted that ever took place in the history of political parties in America. We are inclined to sing with the poet, "Wad some power the giftie give us to see ourselves as others see us."

The speaker's confidence in his chances of election to which he gave frequent expression, seemed to please the Democrats present immensely and were greeted with loud applause. Mr. Stringer is an orator of no mean ability and a forceful talker. He closed his remarks, after talking for an hour, with an eloquent tribute to Lincoln, whose example he urged the Republicans to follow and not allow themselves to be boss ridden and fooled.

At the invitation of Judge Thompson the audience were invited to join in giving three cheers for the state and national Democratic tickets and the meeting adjourned.

REPORTS FROM THE BATTLEFIELD

The flight of Oct. 16 was the most severe. Already casualties are so great as to confirm the declaration of the leaders that the present conflict would be the greatest in history. It is not possible to day to make any close estimate of the Russian casualties.

After a threatening day the Japanese at 11 o'clock the night of Oct. 16 rushed the village of Linchenpo, on the north bank of the Shalke river and west of the railway, precipitating a thundering cannonade and fusillade, which continued until midnight, rifle firing continuing until dawn.

The Japanese now occupy the raised quadrangle near Linchenpo, the only eminence for miles around and which affords an unusual advantage for observation and artillery fire against the Russian right. Several attempts to dislodge them have failed. To day the Japanese shells are falling at Canchipo, near Paltap, showing that the heavy and continuous Russian cannonade has been ineffective.

RUSSIANS ARE ADVANCING.

Mukden, Oct. 18.—It is reported that Russian cavalry is advancing. Japanese wounded were brought in Oct. 17. News has just been received that the Japanese left flank was driven back with heavy loss, and its retreat cut off. An officer just returned from Mischkenko's division reports a sanguinary fight at Laitkhead, fifteen miles southeast of Shalke. The Japanese made a determined effort to cut the line of communication at this point and attacked under cover of terrific cannonade. Out of one company of a Russian rifle brigade only fifty men were left. Two companies that had expended their ammunition prior to the Japanese attack lay in trenches until the Japanese were within a few paces. The Russians then hurled a volley of stones, charged and broke the attacking line, compelling the Japanese to flee.

London, Oct. 18.—A dispatch to the Post from Shanghai says it is reported the Japanese shells have sunk the Russian cruiser Bayan in the harbor at Port Arthur.

MACOMB LAWSUIT

Litigation Over the Will of Joseph Harris Attracts Wide Attention.

Macomb, Ill., Oct. 18.—One of the most important lawsuits that has been contested for some time is on trial in the circuit court, with Judge Greer presiding. Arrayed on the side of the complainant, Mrs. Clara D. Harris, are J. Ross Mickey, Elting & O'Hara, G. D. Tammidiff, all of this city, and Judge Scofield, of Carthage, while against them, representing the defendant, Jonas Harris, are Neece & Son and C. W. Flack.

It seems that the will of Joseph Harris made Jonas Harris executor, and made Dan Harris and Jonas Harris trustees of the property after the expiration of the executorship. Dan Harris acted in that capacity for a number of years and the complainant now contends that Jonas never took part in the management. The will further provided that in case Dan or Jonas refused to qualify or failed to act at any time, Clara Harris, wife of Dan, should act.

Now, it seems that Dan Harris has been missing for something like a year and Clara Harris took charge of affairs. Now Jonas wants to control and act in that capacity. In brief, the contention of Clara Harris is, that Jonas, by failing to act in the years before Dan left, forfeited his right according to the will, and since Dan was absent she should act as trustee according to the will.

There are about 1,200 acres of good land involved in the matter—that is, the management is involved, as the will leaves the property to the children and grandchildren of Dan Harris on the death of him and Clara Harris.
